

The latest expansion included larger spaces for gathering, sharing, and serving for the church. The challenge was seamlessly blending the existing Tudor style design aesthetic with new interpretations for 10,000 square feet of youth space, 3,100 square feet of administrative space, 1,500 square feet of classroom space, a main entrance, and a welcome lobby. A fireside room and coffee gathering area were also included to encourage community within the church.
